A DETERMINED EFFORT TO BRING THE

PRESIDENT TO ST. LOUIS.

All Classes of Citizens to Unite in a Monster

Invitation to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland,

Urging them to Pay the City a Visit During the Fall-The Scheme as Detailed-West-Pennsylvania Citizens Say-Concerted Action

Promised in the Near Future.

Yesterday the Post-Dispatch published a letter that had been sent to President Cleveland by a committee appointed in a meeting of the Executive Committee having in charge the arrangements for the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in St. Louis next September. This letter contained an invitation to the President and his wife to be present during the encampment as the guests of the posts of the Grand Army in St. Louis-has been suggested, and it is worthy of note, that the invitation sent was not at all as supposed to be a request for the presence of the President of the United States at a gathering such as it is hoped will occur in St. Louis should be made in more elaborate manner than by the simple sending of a formally-constructed note. That there should be a suggestion to that effect, is a matter of course. The committee has begun the work of influencing the President's mind toward St. Louis' citizens of all faiths and political affinities, should be made in a more elaborate manner. An invitation is proposed that will be gracefully written and signed by every member of the Merchants and Mechanics' Exchanges, societies of all kind, the Municipal Assembly, the School Board, civil service reformers, and those who are in sympathy with the cause. It is proposed to send to the President in charge of a delegation of prominent citizens, who will verbally present the attractions of St. Louis to the President and his wife.

The name of St. Louis has been extended more in the last ten years by the extraordinary beauty of its carnivals than by all the uses of its existence and achievement com-mercially and socially, before the era of national magnificence.

Other representative citizens, who were expressed themselves as eager to lend any help towards perfecting the plan will be taken in a day or two.

A BURGULARS' REUNION.

Crackmen Invade and Clean Out Mrs.

Hicks-Lord's Palatial Residence.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The palatial drawing-rooms of Mrs. Hicks-Lord, at Washington

Place and Washington Square, were the scene of a burglars' reunion on Monday evening last. The value of property the unbidd guests carried away did not mount up into the tens of thousands was due only to the fact that they neglected to bring with them a draw. The drawing-rooms are on the Washington side of the first floor and comprise the parlor, library and billiard room. They are magnificently furnished, hung with portraits, and contain a large number of mantels, tables and shelves, rare porcelain, costly articles of "vintage" and valuable. The table in the center of the

The Workers and Politicians Object to the

Williams and the Central Committee—

Attorney-General Boone's Opinion on the Precinct Canvass—Revising the Registration Lists—Political Notes.

There is a prospect of a serious break in the Republican party. The trouble has been induced by parties who have had their aspirations cramped by the restrictive anti-stocking element. After Recorder Williams defined his policy the Republicans gained confidence at a wonderful rate. They believed that the whole ticket would be elected at the spring elections and places were at a premium. Ed Fox of the House of Delegates, who was thrown into the same ward with Delegate Gundlach, informed the latter that he would not oppose his nomination for the House of Representatives.

Ed Fox, who is now a candidate for the Council himself. Since then the respectable element of the Democratic party has held several conferences and decided to put up a very strong ticket.

A great many of the Republicans have come to the conclusion that if the Democrats select their ticket from the names already published it would be dangerous to leave the nominations in the hands of the professional politicians. At the request of a number of publicans, Chairman Deland, signed an invitation to prominent Republicans to meet at the Lindell Hotel. The purpose of the meeting was to attempt to induce good citizens to run for places on the ticket.

The effect of this was readily understood by the members of the class who had been invited to attend. They had foreseen enough to withdraw. Schoen-beck is kicking and has the sympathy of the workers on the representation of the party. The defense had four at-the geographical centre beyond which lies the vast expanse of future greatness called the Great West. A visit to the West by the President is imperatively demanded by the greatest happiness of the greatest number of the American people.

INVITING THE PRESIDENT.

The desire that the President should visit St. Louis during the approaching Grand Army reunion is not confined to the Grand Army Posts. Every dweller in the city, and every stranger within the gates, joins in the desire, and would gladly join in the invitation.

The committee in charge of the celebration will neglect a grand opportunity if they allow that general and deep desire to be represented by a formal and mechanical note signed by three or four citizens. They must do better than that. Our suggestion is that they make themselves an agency by which the universal wish of our citizens may be conveyed to the President by an invitation which shall contain the signature of every one who joins in the invitation; an invitation which shall be unique, exceptional, historical and monumental; an invitation which will make a gigantic volume, of leaves of vellum, magnificently bound, signed with the sign manual of two hundred thousand subscribers, and worthy of being preserved at the Capital of the nation forever.

Let a uniform style of invitation be designed and engraved on parchment, using from five to ten thousand sheets as may be needed. Then when the Grand Army Posts invite the President let the invitation be signed not by one or two men, but by every commander, officer and comrade of every Post in the city.

When the Mayor invites him as the head of the City Government let every official in the employ of the city append his signature and official title.

The Merchants' Exchange invitation should be signed by the President and the Directors and by every one of the three thousand members and by every employee of the institution.

Similar invitations should be gotten up from the Cotton Exchange and the Mechanics' Exchange and the Real Estate Exchange and every public and incorporated body in the city.

No respectable citizen should escape. The invitation should come from every order and society, and from every member; from the Free Masons, and the Odd Fellows, and the Knights of Pythias, and the Knights of Labor, and the Knights of St. Patrick and all other Knights; from the courts and the bar; from the newspapers, from the clubs, from the temperance societies and from the Brewers' Association; from the railroad managers and the hotel-keepers, from the Hendricks Association and the Civil-Service Reform Association; from the School Board and from the schools, public and private; from the religious bodies and from the House of Delegates; from French and German and Italian and Bohemian and Irish societies; in a word, from every organization in the city.

The invitation should be extended to the President and Mrs. CLEVELAND.

That would be an invitation worth accepting.

It should be taken to Washington by a committee of not less than a hundred representative citizens with their wives and daughters, and presented personally to Mr. and Mrs. CLEVELAND.

We believe that that would secure for this city the pleasure of their company. At any rate it would be a courtesy creditable to both giver and receiver, and would be well worth the effort.

It is announced that the German Government will try some new methods of coercion in place of those which have been applied in vain for fifteen years to alienate the affections of Alsace-Lorraine from France. A hundred years of such effort failed to Germanize Fosen, and Bismarck has recently admitted that it can be done only by measures which will drive out the Poles and colonize the land with Germans. The German blood and language of the population of Alsace-Lorraine should render its assimilation by the German Empire easier of accomplishment by gentle means. But driving the hand that smites is not a German trait, and German unity is practicable only in harmony with the strong local patriotism which is as manifest in the smallest principality of Germany as in Prussia. Its eradication in Alsace-Lorraine is as impossible as in Bavaria. The attitude of France and of the province wrested from her is a bond of unity to the States of the German Empire for which Bismarck has reason to be, and doubtless is, thankful. Perhaps that is the reason why he pursues a harsh course towards Alsace-Lorraine. The voluntary adoption of a peace policy and the disbanding of her army by France might be more dangerous to the new German Empire than the most formidable army France could put in the field with a Napoleon at its head.

The House at Jefferson City has adopted by a vote of 78 to 47 the railroad bill offered by the Republican members as a substitute for the Senate bill. The only material difference between the substitute as passed and the bill is that the substitute fixes maximum rates and provides very properly that all the Railroad Commissioners shall not belong to the dominant party. By giving 37 of their votes for this measure and only 12 against it, the Republicans have redeemed their record for the session and even made a little better than that of the Democrats on the railroad question. The Democrats voted 41 for it and 33 against it. And now, if the refusal of the Senate to accept the substitute brings the session to a close without the legislation promised in the Democratic platform, the honors of the session will go to the Republicans. But if the result shall be the sending of either the bill or the substitute to the Governor for his signature, "honors will be easy" as between the two parties.

A mob of "regulators," while they were whipping an old woman a few nights ago in Rockcastle County, Kentucky, were fired upon by another gang of "regulators" and three of them were killed. There never was a band of regulators that did not meet regularizing before it finished its course, as the "Bald Knobbers" of this State have just demonstrated. The fact that some of the men implicated in the Green and Edens murders were church members and nearly all of them married men of previously fair characters shows how such an organization involves in shocking crimes even the men who joined it with good intentions.

Express Companies Not Exempt. From the Chicago Tribune. Some of the express companies claim that they are not within the interstate commerce act because they do not own and operate railroads, but simply pay the companies for the use of their cars or ton miles for hauling freight and then charge their customers a liberal profit for the services rendered in handling, expediting and delivering transportation. Notwithstanding the facts that express companies are clearly common carriers by railroad, and as such fully amenable to the provisions of the new law. The legal definition of a common carrier covers "such as carry goods for hire indifferently for all persons, and the term, as explained by commentators includes "stagecoach proprietors, railway companies, truckmen, wagoners and teamsters, carmen and porters, and express companies," as well as the "owners and masters of every kind of vessel or water craft." The interstate commerce act distinctly sets forth, however, that it does apply indiscriminately to all common carriers, but only to such as are engaged in interstate commerce, and the term, as explained by commentators includes "stagecoach proprietors, railway companies, truckmen, wagoners and teamsters, carmen and porters, and express companies," as well as the "owners and masters of every kind of vessel or water craft." DR. ANDREW JACKSON GRANT.

The Matrimonial Swindler Escapes Capture While at Long Branch.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
LONG BRANCH, March 18.—In September last an adventurer, calling himself Dr. Andrew Jackson Grant, married a wealthy widow of Cambridge, Mass., whom he met in Littleton, N. H., and robbed and deserted her in Albany two days after the marriage. His method was to travel in company with a stylish woman, who passed as his sister. He worked his game successfully in a number of places in New England, and married, robbed and deserted several spinsters. He was finally captured by the Cambridge police, but he escaped by a canoe. He was seen at Long Branch on Tuesday afternoon, and was recognized by the Cambridge police. He was seen at Long Branch on Tuesday afternoon, and was recognized by the Cambridge police. HANSEN—HILL.

Official Denial that Mrs. Hansen Had Any Hand in Her Husband's Death.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, March 18.—In the matter of the death of Mr. Louis Hansen, which has been made the occasion of considerable comment, on account of the revelations published in the Post-Dispatch, it has been learned from unqualified authority that the man committed suicide, and that there was not the slightest ground for any suspicion attaching to his wife. The coroner and his deputy, a reputable physician, and the coroner's jury at Corvallis, all agree that the wound which caused his death was self-inflicted. The deputy coroner said that the nature of the wound and all the attendant circumstances were such as to lead to this conclusion, and that there never had been in his mind the slightest doubt of the least suspicion of any one as contributing to Hansen's death. Mrs. Hansen's son, as previously stated in these dispatches, had just come into possession of one-half of her estate. His father, Britton A. Hill, is a very well known member of the St. Louis bar.

THE MOST INTERESTING VOLUME EVER PUBLISHED in Louisiana and one that will have a larger circulation in that State and also in Texas and Arkansas, will be John McAneny & Co.'s new City Directory of Shreveport, La. Business Guide and Standard Price Reference. It will contain over 300 pages of valuable information. Five thousand copies will be given away for the purpose of giving wide circulation to the advertisements. Every firm in St. Louis doing business in the South or desiring to do business there, should have an ad. in this interesting book.
Mr. McAneny is in the city and will call on you if you will drop him a card through the post-office.

WASN'T QUICK ENOUGH.

William H. Cox, a Contractor, Killed in a Fight at Naomi, Colo.

DENVER, Colo., March 18.—William H. Cox was fatally shot at Naomi, a stage station near Dillon, yesterday. Cox was a passenger on the stage, and while the mail was being changed a number of Cox's creditors who were present began to press their claims. Alexander Trelait, one of them, was abused roundly, and Cox, it is said, refused to pay them. Cox drew a revolver in great anger, and in this time a lively scuffle ensued, and in it Cox recovered his revolver. As he leveled it toward Trelait, the latter, who was a man of considerable size, struck him just below the heart, and where he died before on the sled to Dillon. Cox was originally from Lafayette, Ind., his father, now deceased, being one of the oldest merchants and highly respected. For many years he was in Colorado for several years, and was a resident of Denver.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
Dr. O. C. STOUT, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "I have no doubt of the efficacy of this case of nervous prostration. I gave it to one patient who was unable to transact the most ordinary business; as he explained, his brain was 'tired and confused' upon the least exertion mentally. Immediate benefit followed the use of the Acid Phosphate, and he now recovers to it."

PRESIDENT VON DER AHE DICKERING WITH HIS TWO STAR PITCHERS.

Holders of Maroon Stock Anxiously Awaiting Stromberg's Return—Reports from Maroon to the Fair Futurity Stake—Some Account of King Ban—Base Ball and Sporting News—Gossip on the Diamond.

What with the various contradictory statements and reports in reference to the signing of Caruthers and Foutz, the Browns twin of crack pitchers, it is scarcely possible to ascertain the situation. Foutz, however, has publicly stated that he will not sign unless President Von der Ahe pays him the same salary as that which Caruthers will get and Caruthers says he will not pitch for less than the modest sum of $3,500 for the season. When asked for news about the pitchers today, Mr. Von der Ahe said that he has received a letter from Foutz, in which "old reliable" says he will be in St. Louis on time, ready for contract-making. The Browns' President also says that Caruthers has communicated his willingness to play ball with the Browns, notwithstanding all his announcements to the contrary of late. Whatever anxiety about the situation, Foutz and Caruthers do not seem to be in any particular hurry to come home. He gave no information to the stockholders on his departure East. The stockholder indicated above said that doubtless a settlement would be made on a basis of dollar for dollar, and that the stock would be redeemed in full by the company. Mr. Stromberg has been expected home every day for the past five days, and he is expected yet.

Prickly Ash vs. Browns.

The first game of the season at Sportman's Park will be played Sunday afternoon, between the Browns and the Prickly Ash. Murphy and Decker will do the heavy work for the Prickly Ash, while Dawson and Bushong will do the same thing for the champions.

Stromberg on a Pleasure Trip.

One of the largest holders of stock in the League Base Ball Company of St. Louis, former owners of the Maroons, said to-day that in all probability a settlement would be made on a basis of dollar for dollar, and that the stock would be redeemed in full by the company. Mr. Stromberg has been expected home every day for the past five days, and he is expected yet.

The "Met's" New Men.

Of the seven new men on the "Met's," says a New York paper, O'Brien, a broad-shouldered 6-footer, comes from Denver, Colo., and in the West was considered the "Mike" of the Western League. O'Neill also played with the Denver club last season, and has the reputation of being an exceedingly fine catcher. He is a bright fellow, and a graduate of the University of Chicago. Sommers, who is a pitcher, was a first-class pitcher, and has won many games. He is a bright fellow, and a graduate of the University of Chicago. Base Ball Briefs.

Twitwell of the Detroit's, is devoting considerable time to practicing the feat of making a motion with the hand, as if to catch a base runner, and then turning quickly to deliver the ball to the catcher. He is doing very neatly, and it will constitute a task.

Base Ball Briefs.

The Detroit players say that if the pitchers get the new motto a day or two, they will have to be a good base runner who gets to second base safely. A pitcher need not give a base runner a chance to start, as he will be delivered to the catcher, and such throwers as are not good runners will be out of the game. THE HORSEHOES.

Champion Dunn and his Match With Kane of Cincinnati.

The recent failure of local horsehoes to agree upon a match at shoe turning is still fresh in the minds of the public. A similar failure, only this time the champion is concerned, has occurred in Cincinnati, as the following from the Enquirer will show:

Martin Dunn of Detroit, who claims to be the champion horsehoer of the United States, has made a bad funk in the matter of a match with Kane of Cincinnati. Some time ago Dunn issued a challenge to all the horsehoers in the country to make a match for $500. Kane of Cincinnati, who is a well known horsehoer of this city, accepted the challenge, and the match was made. Dunn was not long in covering the money, but was slow in sending along the articles of agreement. After being written to several times, he finally sent the articles, and the match was made. English-Bred Colts and Fillies.

Late in 1884, says "Kirk" in the WORLD, United States Senator Leland Stanford imported several English-bred brood mares in fact to Foxhall, Macgregor and other English breeders. In 1885 the mare, named "Kirk," was imported to the Kentucky Horse Show. The entries closed for the Kentucky Horse Show, last August, to run a two-year-old colts, some half-bred and some pure-bred. Champion Dunn and his Match With Kane of Cincinnati.

The recent failure of local horsehoes to agree upon a match at shoe turning is still fresh in the minds of the public. A similar failure, only this time the champion is concerned, has occurred in Cincinnati, as the following from the Enquirer will show:

Martin Dunn of Detroit, who claims to be the champion horsehoer of the United States, has made a bad funk in the matter of a match with Kane of Cincinnati. Some time ago Dunn issued a challenge to all the horsehoers in the country to make a match for $500. Kane of Cincinnati, who is a well known horsehoer of this city, accepted the challenge, and the match was made. Dunn was not long in covering the money, but was slow in sending along the articles of agreement. After being written to several times, he finally sent the articles, and the match was made.
